Fine weather and Friday coming together gave a good deal of snap to trade, especially on Commission row, preparatory to Saturday's markets. Market men and retail grocers stocked up liberally. On the whole there was no material change in prices. A weaker tone is noticeable in several lines, on quotations, as furnished by the commission houses. In Irish potatoes, while the quotation is 85c, and many potatoes sold at that price, sales were made of good stock as low as 80c a bushel, but one commission merchant remarked, in this connection: "You notice that the seller man said '80 cents a basket,' not a bushel," intimating that the weight was short. Choice apples continue very firm, and oranges and bananas are firmer than last week. Onlons and cabbage sell at much the same prices as for some time past. Green stuff is in better supply and prices are tending lower. The dry goods houses report their business as highly satisfactory. Prices are very firm, but are ruling steady on all lines. Prints are unusually pretty this season and are fast movers. Confectioners are fairly busy.
